

Insurance Defense Junior (Non-Equity) Partner

SLG, an award-winning business litigation boutique, is seeking a partner to lead its insurance defense practice. An inspirational presence in the legal industry since 2017, SLG takes a client-centric approach to dispute resolution resulting in multiple Fortune 100 companies repeatedly retaining SLG to resolve contractual, financial services, product liability, labor, employment, and personal injury claims through litigation, arbitration, and trial.

As SLG continues its steadfast growth, it is recruiting a Junior Partner with 7+ years of experience in personal injury and general liability litigation. The candidate does not need a current book of business; however, SLG will coach and invest in partners who are interested and willing do the hard work required to develop new business opportunities.

The winning candidate will have experience in all aspects of the trial process. This partner will be responsible for leading and coaching associates and paralegals to become the best advocates they can be. Exceeding client expectations and winning—either through settlement or trial—is the expectation.

This is a senior-level position so the ability to lead, motivate, organize, prioritize and self-pace are critical to this role. Additionally, this is an excellent opportunity for the winning candidate to assist in leading the growth of the insurance defense practice while also learning how to successfully run a legal business.

Know Your Role

- Lead case conferences, depositions, hearings, trials, mediations and arbitrations
- Prepare and oversee drafting of pleadings, motions, notices, and written discovery
- Conduct fact investigations and inspections
- Coach associates and other legal staff on performance and manage conflicts
- Participate in SLG firm-wide meetings to provide docket and personnel updates
- Collaborate with other firm leaders on SLG financial projections and growth initiatives
- Attend sponsored firm events and business conferences on behalf of SLG

WHY SLG?

Teamwork. Work Ethic. Practice. Showtime. Repeat. As a former collegiate athlete and coach, I learned these intangible skills, which set me apart as an advocate, arbitrator, and investigator. Now, these traits are assets to my client's ability to effectively resolve disputes.
